His chart topping songs have been recorded by HEART, Michael Jackson, Smokey Robinson, Gladys Knight, Tina Turner and many others. In 1980, Rose Allen and Sue Seaton deemed Bob, the only person ever so designated, to carry on their legacy and teach their vocal technique.

For the past two and a half decades, Bob has vocal coached countless clients in all phases of show business. His client list includes Katy Perry, Gerard Butler (Phantom of the Opera film), Hugh Jackman, Drew Barrymore, Jessica Lange (Grey Gardens film), Vanessa Hudgens, Channing Tatum, Austin Butler, Janet Jackson, Cast of GLEE, Brian Stokes Mitchell, Big Time Rush, Tobey Maguire, John Travolta, Wilson-Phillips and for Me and My Shadows: Life with Judy Garland, Emmy winners, Judy Davis and Tammy Blanchard. Bob has been the on-camera vocal coach on AMERICAN IDOL and coached many contestants on "THE VOICE" and "THE X FACTOR." Mr. Garrett teaches private classes and his highly acclaimed Musical Theatre Master Classes. His students currently grace the Billboard charts and the stages of every musical currently running on Broadway.

In addition, Bob has also directed many Los Angeles theatrical productions including the highly acclaimed FRIED CHICKEN and LATKES starring Rain Pryor (Best Director for both the Ovation and NAACP Awards) and the Young Playwrights Festival SMASH, DARK HORSE. Mr. Garrett was a consultant to the composers of Broadway's THE COLOR PURPLE, and is currently co-writing the book for a new Broadway musical composed by Daryl Hall and John Oates. In addition, he is producing and coaching film stars for a series of global charity concerts for HBO, his original concept. The stars include: Matt Damon, Ben Affleck, Cameron Diaz, Ewan MacGregor, Ryan Gosling, Keira Knightley et al. ### About The Workshop:

Please visit Bob's website, Bobgarrett.net for more info about his career with legendary actors/singers in theatre, film and television including his coaching on the film Grey Gardens, Phantom of the Opera and Me and My Shadows: Life with Judy Garland and The Vow, etc..

Participation in the Masterclass is offered for all three days, or alternatively Day 1 & 2, or Day 3 only.

Participation is by application, and preference will be given to experienced performers, or performers with considerable formal training.

Performers must submit a headshot and resume for consideration, and preference will be given to Equity performers (all non union performers must have considerable professional experience and/or training and will be admitted on a case by case basis).

Performers will be asked to prepare material in advance of the workshop: Simply choose two songs from a list of over 15 songs, personally selected for you by Bob Garrett based on voice and casting type. In addition, talent should bring their own prepared material to work on and coach for. Rachel and Bob to review in our mock audition session on Day 1 (see below).

Bob chooses unique material that will not be performed by others at auditions. The repertoire, will guarantee that you will no longer be looking for material and working on it days before an audition. When applicable, we will cover microphone technique, studio recording, and working through performance nerves.

For performers participating in Day 3 of the workshop, we will run through material in a mock audition setting. Feedback, notes and redirection will be given throughout as well as a question and answer session about auditioning, callbacks, casting in the US, Broadway, national tours and film/tv musical projects, the actor/ agent relationship and the importance of agency representation in the industry.

A Note on Our Format:

We believe strongly in our workshops and their format, as well as it provides the time for you to hone your craft of performing.

While everyone in the workshop stays present for the question and answer portion of the workshop, one of the best aspects of our workshops is the one on one conference time you receive with the casting director, producer or director or coach running the workshop in front of the group or privately, depending on the instructor.

In this portion of the workshop, you will be provided a professional accompanist who will work with you to perform your materials showcasing you in the best manner possible.

Their goal is to make YOU look good, so that our industry guest can accurately aid you with advice on becoming a stronger performer.

Objective:

- Creating our own choices on scene direction, song direction and material choice
- Analyze personal goals and how to achieve them
- Analyze performance for means of improvement

Essential Question:

- How can we become better actors, singers and performers?

Workshop Exercises:

- Actors will prepare material ahead of time provided to them, or of their choice as per instructors directions.
- The guest instructor will review their personal background in the entertainment industry, including, but not limited to, prior jobs in the dramatic arts (casting, directing, acting, their own education, experience as a teacher of the dramatic arts, etc.)
- Guest instructor will discuss the process involved in succeeding as an actor in their opinion and professional experience
- Guest instructor will answer questions from students regarding their professional aspirations, and other relevant queries
- Actors will, one at a time, conference with teacher regarding their headshot/resume and scene. Actors will perform scene it in its entirety at least once for evaluation; often with an opportunity to perform additional material on day two.
- Guest instructor will fill out an evaluation form based upon performance and headshot/resume, and cite specific ways student can improve technique, choices, and marketability in the future.

Our goal with our workshops and masterclasses is for you as an actor to gain as much insight from your own questions and performance as from the guest instructors insights and suggestions. We endeavor to create the same professional atmosphere that you are expected to work within in the industry within which to hone your skills.

It's our opinion that it is important for each actor exercise self-evaluation in combination with feedback suggestions or critiques from the guest instructor and our other special guests that drop in from time to time. We want you to reach your full potential, grow as a performer and aid in building and creating relationships within the industry with those individuals who are in decision making positions and can make the casting and production process as transparent as possible.
